

PORTFOLIO · SELECTED WORK

Mir Zuhair

Textile & Communication Designer

Hyderabad, Sindh

mirzuhair.com

TEXTILE THESIS, 2025

Threads of Time

A Fusion Between Past and Future

A textile thesis: a single look that wears a building. From primary research at the Talpur Haveli in Hyderabad, Sindh, the painted ceiling became a draped silk cape and the corridor of arches and lanterns became a mermaid skirt, closed with a hand-cut brass corset of blooming roses.

Digital print on silk · Brass-sheet sculpture · Installation

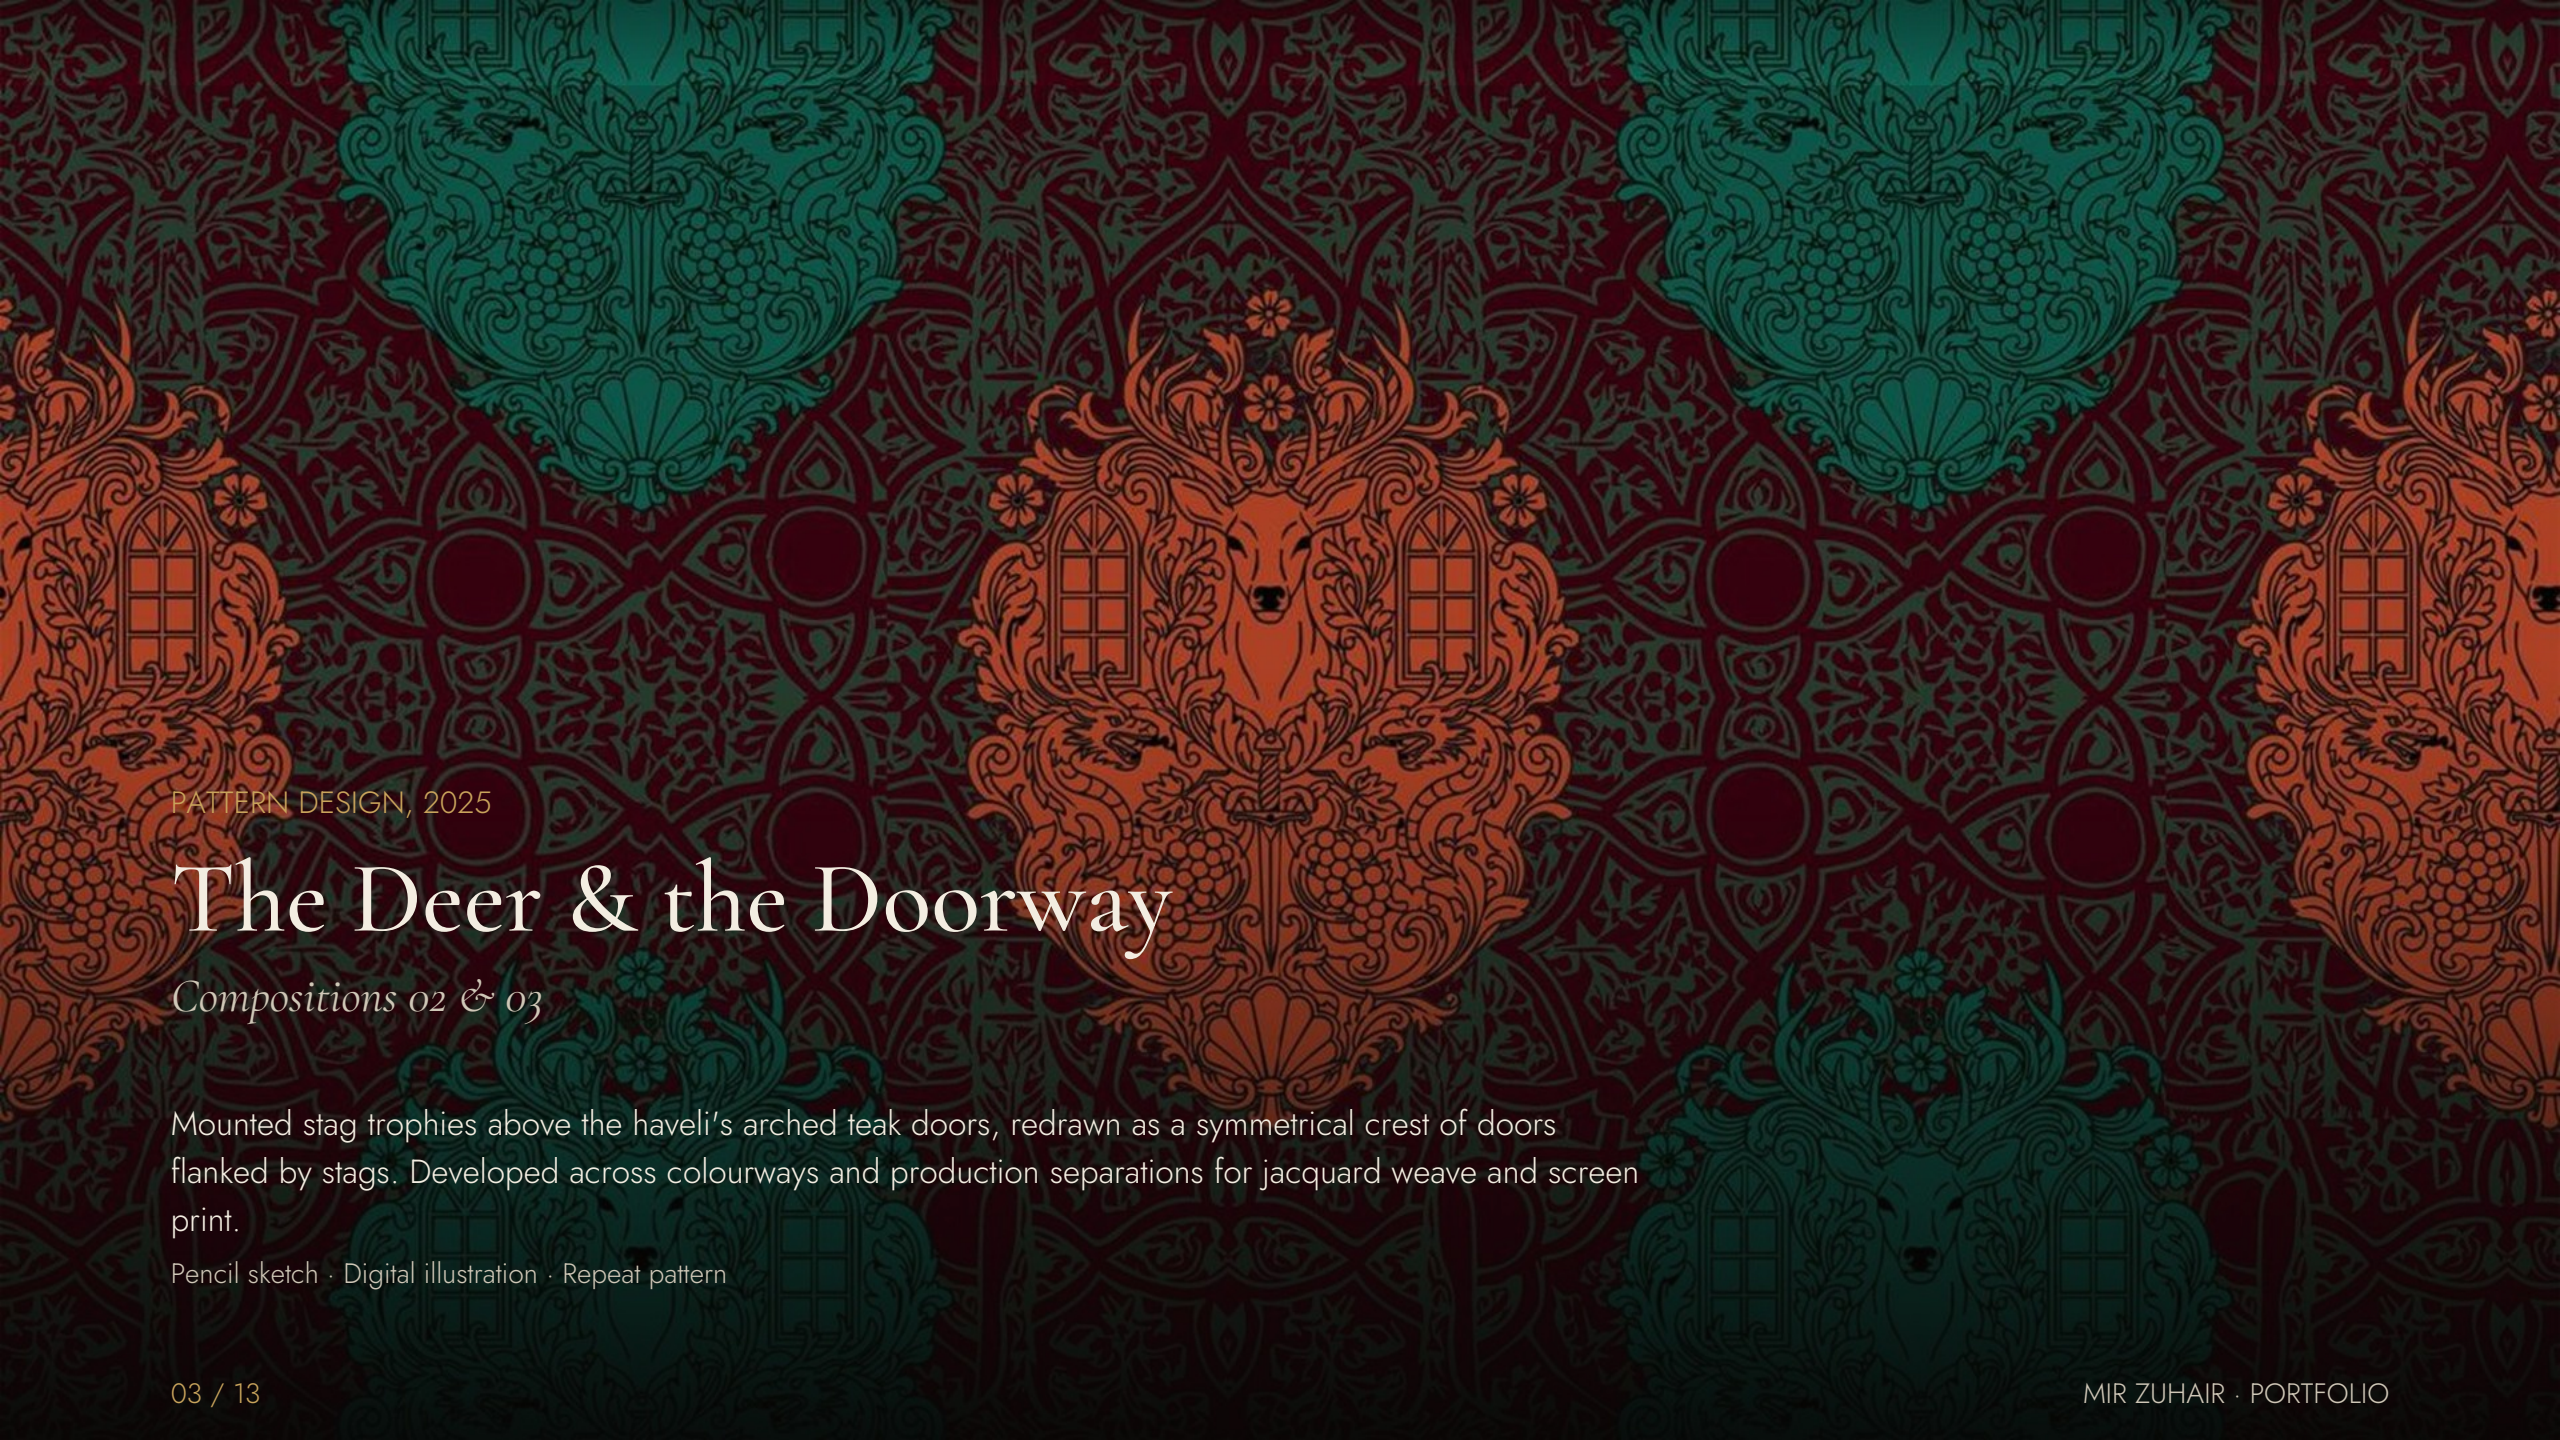

SELF-INITIATED, COMMUNICATION DESIGN, 2025

MIR, What Remains.

A Speculative Fragrance & Communication Campaign

A speculative fragrance brand built by reusing the doorway and painted-ceiling drawings from Threads of Time, extended into stationery, packaging, three typographic posters, a twelve-second motion study and an interactive postcard maker.

Identity · Packaging · Typography · Motion · Interaction

PATTERN DESIGN, 2025

The Deer & the Doorway

Compositions 02 & 03

Mounted stag trophies above the haveli's arched teak doors, redrawn as a symmetrical crest of doors flanked by stags. Developed across colourways and production separations for jacquard weave and screen print.

Pencil sketch · Digital illustration · Repeat pattern

PATTERN DESIGN, 2025

The Painted Ceiling

Composition 04

Drawn from painted ceilings: star medallions, radiating petals and dense floral infill. Sketched by hand, redrawn as a flat cut-paper motif, and printed in rose-gold for the Threads of Time silk cape.

Geometric ornament · Colourway development

ILLUSTRATION & PATTERN, 2025

Portrait of an Ancestor

Composition 05

The haveli holds painted portraits of Talpur ancestors. This composition frames a figure in the same carved foliate ornament as the furniture around it, putting family history back into circulation as something worn, not kept behind glass.

Archival research · Line illustration · Repeat

PATTERN DESIGN, 2025

Corridors & Chandeliers

Compositions 01 & 06

Drawn from the haveli's light: the long beamed corridor with its lanterns and carved chairs, mirrored into a toile, and a ceremonial chandelier placement print flanked by peacocks and vases.

Spatial research · Toile · Placement print

PATTERN DESIGN, 2025

The Ivory Table

Composition 07

Drawn from a single object: a carved ivory table with an eagle, faces and acanthus scrolls on its pedestal.
Translated from sculptural light and shadow into flat ornament without losing its carved richness.

Object study · Line illustration · Colourways

PATTERN DESIGN, 2025

Lanterns of the Haveli

From object to repeat

A pattern study built from the hand-painted, jewelled glass lanterns that hang through the haveli's corridors, linked by chains of dots into a dense, nocturnal diagonal repeat in emerald and amber on black.

Observational drawing · Colour · Repeat

PATTERN DESIGN

Greek Architecture & Ornament

Three prints

Testing the same method built for the haveli on a second architectural tradition: Colonnade, Greek Key and Hummingbird, three prints built from individually illustrated motifs and mapped onto editorial photography.

Classical ornament · Photoshop · Pattern mapping

IDENTITY & TYPOGRAPHY, 2026

Quiet Structure · A personal typographic identity

Lettering · Wordmark · Identity system

A self-initiated identity for my own name: a custom seven-glyph wordmark, a compact MZ monogram and a small visual system, refined letter by letter so it can sit confidently beside the work without competing with it.

MIR'S
Café

BRAND & CAMPAIGN, 2026

Mir's Café

Brand identity & campaign

A self-initiated identity and launch campaign for a chai house in Hyderabad, Sindh, built from my own palace drawings: the lantern, corridor, painted ceiling, chandelier and deer crest, carried across packaging, the street and a phone screen.

Identity · Packaging · Out-of-home · App · Social

Stay for the second cup.

N-THU · 4-7
OND CHAI
SE

Digital Twin

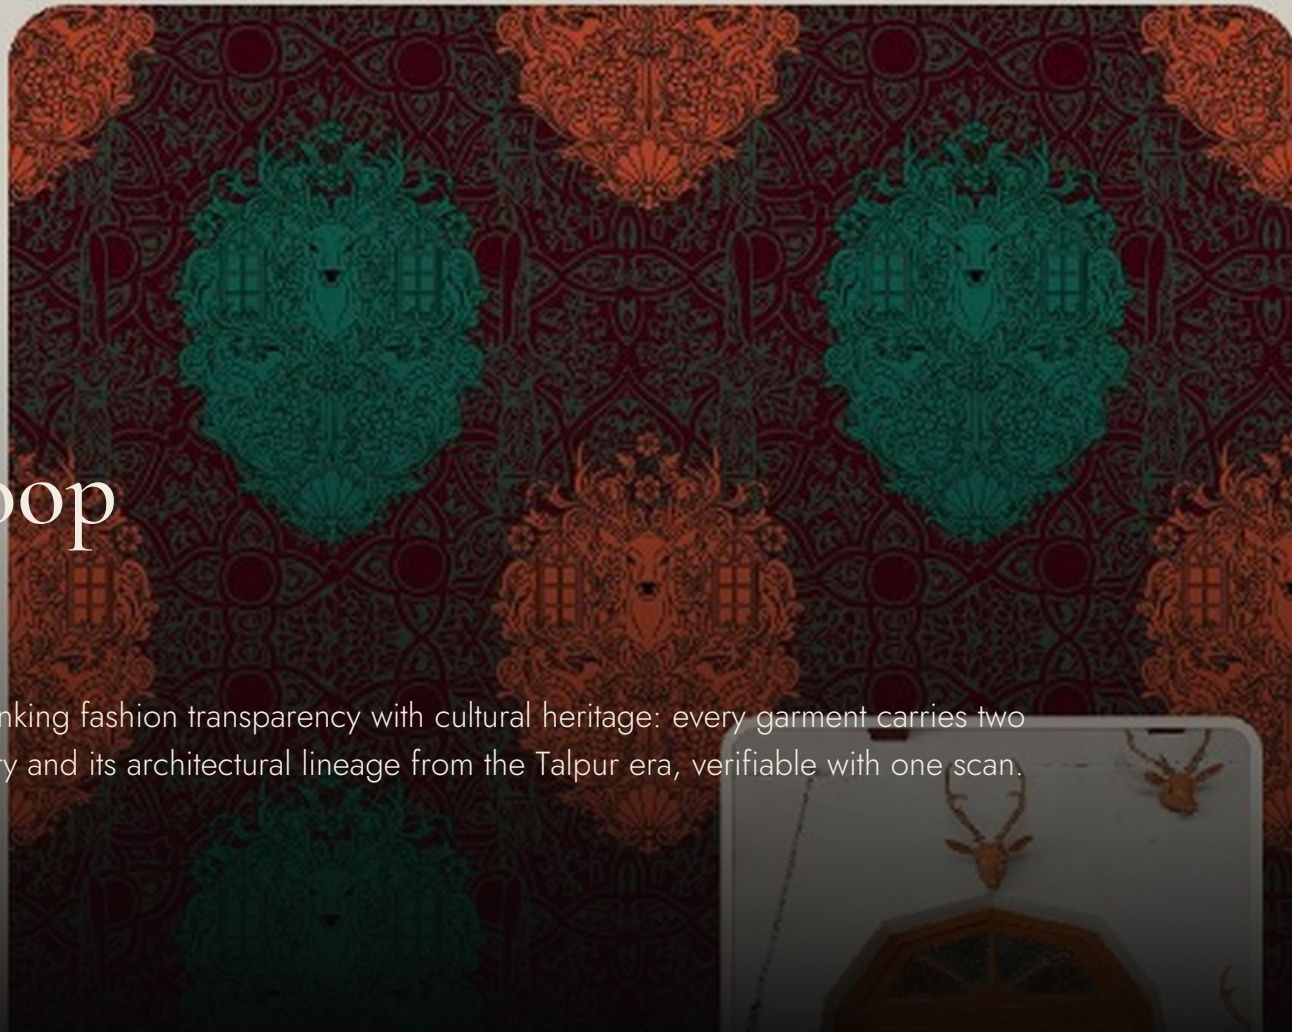

UX / SERVICE CONCEPT, 2025

Heritage Loop

Digital platform concept

A concept for a digital platform linking fashion transparency with cultural heritage: every garment carries two records, its environmental ancestry and its architectural lineage from the Talpur era, verifiable with one scan.

Personas · UI · Design system

ART DIRECTION, 2025

Pattern in Editorial · Speculative applications

Moodboard · Photoshop · Pattern mapping

Speculative mockups that test the Threads of Time patterns in contemporary fashion media: what these ancestral motifs look like on a magazine cover, a red carpet or a runway.

Thank you

mirzuhair.com · zohairtalpur13@gmail.com